About NFCR

The National Foundation for Cancer Research (NFCR) was established in 1973 to support cancer research and public education relating to earlier prevention, better diagnosis, new and more effective treatments, and ultimately, cures for all types of cancer. NFCR promotes and facilitates collaboration among scientists to accelerate the pace of discovery from bench to bedside.

To date, NFCR has provided over $340 million in support of discovery-oriented basic research focused on understanding how and why cells become cancerous and on cancer prevention education. NFCR's scientists are unraveling cancer's molecular mysteries and translating these discoveries into therapies that hold great promise for curing cancer. NFCR is about Research for a Cure —cures for all types of cancer.
